MM10

The Actius MM10 introduces a new way to remain productive on the go. This ultraslim, lightweight notebook measures just 0.54 inches at the thinnest point and weighs only 2.10 pounds. You can confidently carry this lightweight beauty on the road all day thanks to the optional high capacity battery that provides up to 9.0 hours of battery life.

When you're not on the road, the Actius MM10 can be docked in the included connection cradle. While the battery is charging, the Actius MM10 can be a USB 2.0 external secondary hard drive, enabling direct data and file access from your home or office PC. Mobile computing has never been easier.

The Actius MM10 was designed for users who require maximum productivity in and out of the office. Never before has a 2.10 pound notebook provided so much power. It's 1GHz Crusoe™ Processor, 256MB RAM, 15GB hard drive, 2 USB 2.0 ports and integrated Wi-Fi wireless connectivity ensure that you have the performance you need, while its groundbreaking design makes it a pleasure to carry. The included connection cradle makes it easier than ever to share files and backup data on your office or home PC.

Improved Mobility by Design

The Actius MM10 owes its quiet, fanless design and ultraslim, solid chassis to the extremely thin magnesium and aluminum alloy processing, the small 1.8" hard disk drive, Sharp's original high-density technology and original cooling mechanism. Weighing just over 2 pounds and only 0.54" thick (at the thinnest point), the Actius MM10 features a reliable 1GHz Crusoe™ Processor, built-in wired and wireless LAN connectivity, a touch-typable keyboard and up to 9.0 hours of battery life* (with the optional high capacity battery). This unique ultraportable notebook is enough for even the most demanding business traveler.

Easy File Transfer and Data Back-up

The included connection cradle provides seamless connectivity to any USB capable PC with Microsoft® Windows® XP/2000/ME operating system, allowing the hard drive inside Actius MM10 to be seen on the other PC enabling effortless data back-up and file transfer. Simple clicking and dragging will allow you to keep all of your information up-to-date. The connection cradle can also charge the Actius MM10's battery.

Built-in IEEE802.11b Wireless Technology

Featuring built-in IEEE802.11b Wi-Fi wireless LAN technology, the Actius MM10 quickly and easily connects you to wireless networks in locations such as corporate offices, hotels, airports and coffee houses. Using a cable is now a thing of the past.
